Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 17 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Largely dry, with a few showers spreading east overnight.

This Evening and Tonight:
Staying largely dry for most, with showers still likely in the west overnight, spreading east across the region by dawn. Winds remain light, with patchy cloud overnight leaving clear spells for many. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Monday:
A few morning showers likely, before outbreaks of rain move in from the west through the afternoon, turning heavier as the day goes on. Overnight, heavy downpours with winds strengthening. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday and Wednesday will see further heavy rain, with strong winds, especially along coasts. Scattered showers and sunny spells on Thursday. Winds easing by Thursday but still blustery in showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.